Will you help rescue little girls like Isabel Loeffler from educational slavery?

Dear Friends and Supporters of Exodus Mandate,

The Wall Street Journal just ran a page-one feature report telling the horrible nightmare of Isabel Loeffler. Restraints and violent choke holds are being used against children in our government-run school systems.

Why? Because of another misguided educational experiment called “mainstreaming.” The process not only does horrible damage to the kids it is supposed to help—but to the classes and teachers who are mandated to enforce it. Everyone suffers in the cause of this false notion of “equal opportunity”.

Won't you help me fight this kind of foolishness by supporting us this summer in our efforts to promote Christian education? We believe one of the best ways to fulfill the Great Commission of Christ is by liberating children from secular school systems.

We are acting in the legacy of William Wilberforce...

When we work to save little children like Isabel Loeffler and help parents like Doug and Eva Loeffler, we are acting in the historical context of William Wilberforce.

Like William Wilberforce, who spent decades of thankless work to defeat slavery in the British Empire, we are carrying on his fight. And we need your help to sustain these efforts, just as he depended on a team of volunteers and donors to carry on his work for God.

Wilberforce had a support network of dedicated Christians who worked tirelessly for 40 years to end the terrors of the slave trade. We need such a team now to help parents provide Christian education for their children—especially this summer. Right now, many parents are deciding if they will send their kids back to government schools or “opt out” for a Christian education. We can only be there to help them if you stand with us!

Did you know that Wilberforce had a second passion besides abolishing slavery?

Few remember today that he also shared your concern for the Christian Education of children. Please read the enclosed tract by Dr. David John Seel on this fascinating fact. Exodus Mandate has published this tract as a tie-in to the movie premier of AMAZING GRACE, the film biography of William Wilberforce. We are Wilberforce's spiritual heirs, and I need your help to carry on his spiritual legacy this summer. I challenge you to join our support team if you have not already done so.

Mother finally rescues eight-year-old Isabel Loeffler...

When Eva Loeffler rescued her shrieking daughter from a public school in Waukee, Iowa, the child was being disciplined by a male teacher using a grotesque restraint hold. Approved by the school district, choke holds are causing deaths every year—even in institutions where they are routinely used to subdue violent children and patients. Thank God that Mrs. Loeffler is now SAFELY and SUCCESSFULLY teaching her autistic daughter at home.

After months of solitary confinement, “hand over hand” punishment and restraints, the government finally allowed the Loefflers to do what we believe they should have done from the very beginning—school their troubled daughter at home! (For the whole story go to WSJ.COM or for further coverage of how “mainstreaming” is adversely affecting education, go to WSJ.com/Mainstreaming or video interviews at WSJ.com/Video.)

With your financial gift, we can help many Christian parents like Eva Loeffler take their kids out of the secular school system this year. But time is short to get the word out for 2007. Unless parents are encouraged to act now, they will have to turn their precious children over for another year of secularist brainwashing.

Every year about this time, we travel the country with the facts about the dangers of the secular humanistic schools which are starting up again next month...we must warn parents NOW...before it is too late...and your financial gift will make all the difference.

The clock is ticking! The hearts and minds of children hang in the balance. Will you help us motivate Christian parents and leaders? Will you help us save parents the heartache of losing another generation of children to the spirit of this age?

In some states, government schools start another year of forced, humanistic training this month—in August. Secular education doesn't always teach atheism. It does worse. It systematically trains innocent little minds to believe that God is irrelevant in their lives.

The result is increasing chaos and violence in our culture, in families and in society. The government monopoly on education is only 100 years old, but it has done incredible damage to our economy and national life in such a short time.

We cannot afford a summer slump in giving!

Most Christian missions and charities face a financial shortfall in the summer. Many people get distracted by vacations during the summer months. However, our year-round work actually increases in the summer. So, we cannot afford “a summer slump” here at Frontline Ministries for Christ! Can I count on you to be faithful and even send the biggest possible summer gift you can at this time? Critical ministry expenses continue and we need to pull together. Children's lives are at stake.

Gail and I understand sincere couples like Doug and Eva Loeffler. They have patiently tried to work with the flawed public school system—and hundreds of thousands of tax dollars were spent to force little Isabel to fit into the program. However, the system failed, and in the end they had to bring their daughter home. It is a big challenge to any parent.

We faced the same doubts and fears they do today when we made the decision to give our children a Christian education back in 1977. Back then, there was no Exodus Mandate to help us find the facts....no summer Christian curriculum conventions...few Christian schools...and of course there was no online network like Homeschooling Family to Family.

The Loeffler's and others like them have legitimate concerns and questions like these:

- How do we tell our children they can not go off to school with their playmates and friends?
- Are we somehow failing to witness to other kids by pulling out?
- Will Christian education hurt our children academically?
- Will our children socialize normally?
- Will this hurt their future career development, team-sport or music skills, and university admittance? Should we compromise to improve their chances?

Frontline Ministries has the Christian answers to all these questions—and more. That's why we urgently need your help this summer to get the word out. Gail and I, and our State Coordinators, are so busy this time of the year. Our Frontline Advocacy Team must travel to at least 11 critical conventions. All this effort takes the financial help of people like you who care.

Now is the time for action!

Whatever we do to call children out of Pharaoh's School system in 2007, it has to be done now. That means Frontline Ministries needs to rent exhibits, print tracts and literature, produce costly CD's, buy tickets to travel, and do hours of time-consuming, "behind-the-scenes", follow-up work, on our websites and computer databases. All this increases expenses.

That's why I have to send you this urgent letter today, asking you to pray and make the best gift you can to this work of God in July and August. We really need at least 200 new people to give $100 or more to help this summer—will you prayerfully consider being one of them?

But if you can't send $100, will you send as much as you can today?

11 State Coordinators need our help this month...

Our 11 State Coordinators and 4 representatives are counting on our logistical help now. Many of the conventions will be covered by Jube Dankworth and her team from Homeschooling Family to Family www.homeschoolingfamilytofamily.org

This summer, Frontline Ministries will be supporting Mrs. Dankworth's efforts with oversight and funds just as we assist Exodus Mandate. She has already recruited 10 state coordinators to cover her conventions with exhibits, literature, DVD's and other items.

Will you help sponsor one of these outreaches with a gift of $100 or more as God has blessed you? Perhaps you may be able to sponsor one whole state convention with a gift of $1000 or $2000? Whatever you can give will help, be it $15 or $50,000. Funds are needed to help fight a system that is destroying our children.

The long, hot days of summer can be a great challenge. This is the time that we have to press on and not give up hope. Your gift today will make a big difference. So please don't put it off. Use the enclosed response envelope and reply form to send your best gift today.

Together, we must liberate children from educational slavery.

Thank you in advance and God bless you,

Chaplain E. Ray Moore, Jr., Th.M.

P.S. Just write and ask if you need more copies of Beware Before It Is Too Late for distribution in your area. This is perfect for every pastor and Christian parent in your community. I will send you a free packet of 25 copies just for the asking.
